

LGBTQ+ Family Law and you

The law has come a long way in recognising LGBTQ+ families and affording them the same rights and opportunities as opposite sex couples - though there is, of course, still more to be done. Our Resolution Accredited Specialist explains the legal issues affecting same sex relationships when it comes to separation and children.

By Karen Johnson

Mental capacity and making a will

Proving whether or not someone has the legal capacity to make or alter a will is not always straightforward. To explain the legalities around this, one of our Associate Solicitors in the Court of Protection and Inheritance Disputes team explores some notable cases that inform the decision making process.

By Lisa Cox

What constitutes discrimination at work?

There are laws to protect everyone from being treated unfairly and suffering direct and indirect discrimination. Charlotte, a solicitor in the BLHR and Employment team talks through exactly what constitutes discrimination in the workplace.

By Charlotte Holman

Birkett Long and the LGBTQ+ Community

We take great care to make sure our support of the LGBTQ+ community is year-round – we don't just put a rainbow on our logo during Pride Month! Head of Marketing, Jennie explains more about how Birkett Long supports the LGBTQ+ community.

By Jennie Skingsley

look

For some free advice just register

In case you missed it →

- Armed Forces Day 2023: Support from Birkett Long
- Once upon a pre-nup
- What legal considerations should LGBTQ+ couples be aware of when starting a family?
- Non-compete clauses: Government crackdown

Promises promises...
A guide to claiming an inheritance
28 June