

The year in review

2024 has been a memorable year at Birkett Long. From navigating political and legal changes to upgrading two of our offices and our website, we've embraced opportunities to enhance the way we deliver our services. We're also proud to have achieved world-class accreditation from Best Companies while continuing to provide consistent, exceptional support to our clients.

We've received positive reviews, supported charitable and community causes, and helped numerous clients protect, defend, and litigate to achieve their desired outcomes.

We are very proud of what we do and remain dedicated to being the team you turn to for your business needs or personal legal wellness.

As the year draws to a close, we reflect on key legal moments from 2024, including the importance of managing driving licence penalty points, highlighting firm achievements, recognising the significant role of grandparents in family law, and celebrating the promotions within our firm.

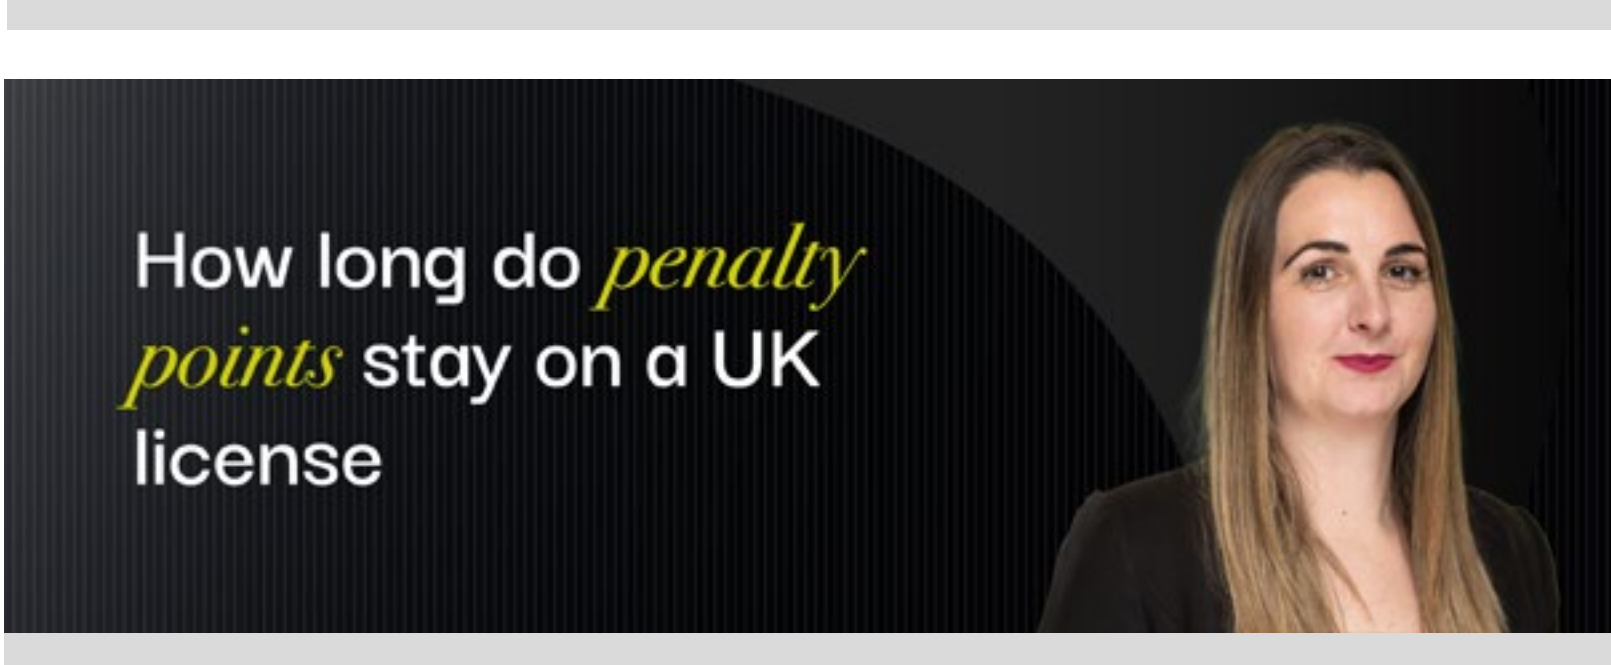

Wishing you all the very best for 2025. We'll be here for you whenever you need us.

As 2024 concludes, we reflect on the key legal developments that have shaped the year, including advancements in AI, changes in inheritance tax, and important government legislation. Read our comprehensive end-of-year review, explore the impacts, and stay informed about what lies ahead in 2025.

Find out more here

by Martin Hopkins

How long do penalty points stay on your driving record? We cover how long different offences remain on your record, highlight recent exemptions allowing emergency services to use hand-held mobile devices in specific situations, and provide updates on changes to UK driving laws and regulations.

Find out more here

by Zoe Hosking

2024 has been a year of growth, community engagement, and recognition at Birkett Long, from top rankings in The Legal 500 UK to significant milestones in pro bono work and charity. Here we reflect on a rewarding year and look forward to 2025.

Find out more here

by Sarah Humphries

Grandparents play a crucial role in a child's life, but when relationships break down, access can be affected. This article explores how grandparents can navigate legal challenges and secure contact with their grandchildren, offering insights on options, rights, and the legal processes involved.

Find out more here

by Dorjan Myrtja

Birkett Long announced the promotions of several team members in 2024, recognising their dedication and expertise. These advancements highlight their valuable contributions and reflect our commitment to fostering growth, creating opportunities, and maintaining excellence across the firm.

Find out more here

by Joann Kebbell

- Navigating IHT Changes for Business Owners
- Managing Staff Holidays Over Christmas: A Guide for Employers
- Housing Needs and Divorce: Key Options and Considerations
- Tax burden on Agricultural Estate Planning

